

The introduction of Disability Research Journal

The Disability Research Journal started publication since 2011 in Beijing, China. It is registered in the State Administration of Press, Radio, Film and Television of the Peoples' Republic of China, and the China standard serial numbering is ISSN2095-0810/CN11-6014/D. The journal is sponsored by Research Center of China Disabled persons' Federation (CDPF), being published 4 times a year. The journal includes special research, theoretical discussion, practical exploration, overseas vision, survey statistics and other columns. The special research column is the characteristic column of journal, which mainly provides ideas and solutions for the key and difficult problems of persons with disabilities.

Deputy chairman Kai Cheng of CDPF acts as the chief editor. The editor committee is composed of experts who come from famous universities and provincial Disabled Person's Federation. All the professors are majoring in disability research, and they are also the sources of reviews for the articles.

All the time, we hope that our journal could act as the communication window for disability research, where we can spread our opinion abroad and introduce in advanced research and experience all over the world. At present, we still have much to do for this. But we are on the way already.
