

Disabilities as Ways of Knowing

A Series of Creative Writing Conversations

Disability as Part of the Story

In celebration of Disability Awareness Month, please join us for an exciting poetry reading with Ona Gritz and Daniel Simpson, followed by a reception and book signing.

Tuesday, October 24, 2017
Syracuse University

Poetry Reading, 6:30 to 7:30 pm (Watson Theater)
Reception and Book Signing, 7:30 to 8:30 pm (near Light Work)

Free and open to the public.

American Sign Language (ASL) interpretation will be provided during the poetry reading and the reception.
Communication Access Realtime Translation (CART) will be provided during the poetry reading.

Parking is complimentary. The Booth Garage and the Marion Lot will be available on a first come, first serve basis.
The Q5 Lot has been designated for accessible parking. For any questions pertaining to parking, please contact Dee Bailey at: debailey@syr.edu A Campus Parking Map is available online at: <https://goo.gl/7wA7ra>

For other accommodation requests, or if you have any questions, please contact sudcc@syr.edu by 10/17/17

This event is made possible by the Co-Curricular Departmental Initiatives Program within the Division of Enrollment and the Student Experience, and is co-sponsored by the Disability Cultural Center, the Disability Studies Program, and the Creative Writing Program, with support from Active Minds, the Beyond Compliance Coordinating Committee, the Burton Blatt Institute, the Disability Student Union, the LGBT Resource Center, the Office of Multicultural Affairs, the Renée Crown University Honors Program, the Slutzker Center for International Services, and Verbal Blend.

Syracuse University
Disability Cultural Center

Syracuse University
Disability Studies Program

Syracuse University
Creative Writing Program

As aspects of variance and diversity, disability cultures and identities enrich the tapestry of life on and off the SU campus.